

Intro to Natural Health

Presented by

Charity
Suttles

This introductory class explains our natural and safe solutions for many health challenges so we can help you feel better naturally without the use of drugs or surgery. Come learn what the root causes of illness can be and how to address them naturally.

Charity has been passionate about natural health and entrepreneurship for more than 15 years. After her eldest child was born, Charity started her first business, a medical billing company, to spend more time with her son. As time passed, she found herself choosing natural options for her children with great success. Overcoming health challenges naturally led her to start formal training to become a holistic health practitioner. In 2021, Charity combined her passion for holistic health and entrepreneurship by launching Holistic Wellness Center to fulfill her dream of having a place for the community to experience all that natural health has to offer. Her team now offers an array of natural healing modalities to help others take their health to a whole new level!

Charity is the mother of 10 children (yes, she's birthed every one!) and enjoys nature, the piano, and reading.
