NEXT CHANCE WORKFORCE PROGRAM

ARE YOU READY FOR YOUR NEXT CHANCE?

- Do you have a history with Substance Abuse?
- Do you live in Hamblen, Cocke, or Jefferson Counties (TN)?
- Need help finding or retaining employment due to a history of Substance Use?
- Need to learn new soft skills or how to foster your current skill set?
- Have court ordered classes to complete?

WHAT WE OFFER...

We are proud to help 18 years or older who struggle with Substance Use Disorder by offering a FREE intake, temporary transportation, treatment counseling, case management, employment services, peer support and supportive services to qualified participants in the program who are seeking gainful employment during their recovery.

To ensure success in providing employment services, Next Chance Workforce Program has adopted the Individual Placement and Support or IPS model of Supported Employment.

First Peoples Bancorp, Inc. Announces Merger with Peoples Bancshares of TN, Inc.

JEFFERSON CITY, TN. — First Peoples Bancorp, Inc., the holding company for First Peoples Bank of Tennessee, announced today that it has entered into a definitive agreement to merge with Peoples Bancshares of TN, Inc., the holding company for Peoples Bank of East Tennessee.

The merger represents a significant milestone in the growth strategy of Peoples Bancshares and reinforces a shared commitment to community banking, local decision-making, and relationship-based customer service. Upon completion of the transaction, First Peoples Bank of Tennessee will become part of Peoples Bank of East Tennessee, creating a stronger community bank with 16 branch locations, approximately 150 employees, and more than $650 million in total assets.

“We have long respected the relationships First Peoples Bank of Tennessee has built within its communities. Together, we will be better positioned to deliver enhanced products, expanded capabilities, and continued personal service while maintaining the ‘People First’ values our customers expect,” stated Chris White, Chairman and CEO of Peoples Bancshares.

“This merger brings together two banks that share a strong commitment to community banking, customer service, and local decision-making,” said Jeremy Callais, President of Peoples Bancshares. “Our focus throughout this process will be to ensure a smooth transition while preserving the relationship-based banking culture that has been the foundation of both organizations’ success. Additionally, our commitment to retaining 100% of the employees of First Peoples Bank of Tennessee represents the strong alignment between both of our banks and our communities.”

Steve Amos, President and CEO of First Peoples Bank of Tennessee, added, “For many years, First Peoples Bank of Tennessee has been privileged to serve our customers and communities with a focus on relationships, trust, and local service.”

Johnny Wayne Farris, Chairman of First Peoples Bank of Tennessee, added, “We believe Peoples Bank of East Tennessee shares those same values. This transaction brings together two community banking organizations with common cultures and a shared commitment to putting customers first. We are excited about the opportunities this partnership creates and are confident it will position our customers, employees, and communities for continued success.”
